LO: To describe the different types of weather in the four seasons Let's get creative, you can design a poster, make a model or a hanging mobile showing the different types of weather in each of the 4 seasons. Use whatever you have in your house! Sign up for the Big Garden Birdwatch (29th-31st January). Go outside and look closely for birds! Write down and draw the different types of bird that you see.	LO: To move in different ways Challenge yourself Can you keep going for 2 minutes? Create another circuit but try to think of different exercises this time! You might even want to create your own exercises to include! What else could you add to your circuit? Cosmic Yoga or Joe Wicks workout on YouTube	LO: To make your own weather forecast Watch a weather forecast (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dB4gGvqGptE). This can be one from the news or one found online. Think about the weathers which were mentioned. Watch what the weather person does. What are they saying? What are they doing? Why is it useful to know what the weather is going to be like? Have a go at presenting your own weather forecast. You could use some of the symbols that you created last week to help you!	LO: To learn about different feelings Try to think of as many different feelings as you can! Create a feelings monster. You could draw them, make puppets or make models of the different types of feelings.	LO: To design a functional product by selecting materials according to their characteristics Think back to your task last week. You had to try on coats made from different materials. Were any of these good to use for a waterproof coat? Design your own waterproof coat using materials of your choice. Draw it in your books and think about which materials will be best to use so you can move about easily and stay warm and dry!
